

Welcome to the New Hisco.com website

We've redesigned our site from top to bottom to give you the best shopping experience possible

With our new features you'll be able to:

Expand your options with our unique product mix:

Looking for the industry's most expansive resource for supply chain solutions? Look to Hisco for a unique selection of production chemicals, solder, adhesives, and general industry essentials.

Stretch your dollars farther with consistently competitive pricing:

Make your money count. We partner with leading manufacturers to offer the best prices every day on innovative products and solutions.

Shop online with your same special Hisco pricing:

We've made shopping with Hisco easier than ever, automatically applying your pre-negotiated pricing to orders you place online, over the phone or through a Hisco representative.

Stay ahead of the game with real-time local inventory:

The search is over. Simply log in to view a huge selection of products plus supplies currently stocked for you at your local Hisco branch.

Chime into live chat for immediate customer support:

We're ready when you are. Chat with a dedicated customer service associate anytime during business hours to make your shopping process easier and better than ever.

Phone, tablet or desktop - you'll enjoy the same great experience:

Fully redesigned and optimized for enhanced navigation, the new Hisco.com automatically recognizes your smart phone or tablet and reconfigures the site for the best possible presentation.

Self Serve 24/7

Now you can save time and effort by accessing your account information online whenever you need it.

- Search invoices by ship to address, order #, invoice #, part# or date range, and print copies
- Save orders you purchase frequently and reorder them with just a click
- Search and print company's complete history of orders - not just those you bought online
